So welcome to what we describe as our glory
We lost ourselves in all their second hand stories
We won't see another day alone
Wake up to the sound of another song
And fall asleep in the places we belong
We don't care for what we'll never believe in

(Wake up)
To another night
Where fireworks and alcohol
Sit back and watch the stars ignite
We'll never go back now
No matter where this life takes us
We'll find our way with who
(We know)
Will never let us down

Snap shots and memories
We won't remember in the morning
These things bring out the best in me
As I'm stumbling and falling
I won't write another sorry song

We sold ourselves to
The things you have to see to believe
This is who we are

(Wake up)
To another night
Where fireworks and alcohol
Sit back and watch the stars ignite
We'll never go back now
No matter where this life takes us
We'll find our way with who
(We know)
Will never let us down

We sold ourselves to
The things we have to see to believe
This is who we are
Here's to the night x6

(Chorus repeating in gangs)

Here's to the nights where there's an overload
Of every high you could imagine
Every city that we're smashin'
Here's to the nights with all my brothers shouting out
Here's to the nights we can't remember
That will be with us forever
