Summer killed the ones you loved

I hesitate and tell you

When people leave without goodbye

I lose another brick

The buildings are tall

the world explains all and here I stand and face myself:

I lead the way for us

I've frozen down my memory

It's morning when she gets up

She puts on Lionel Ritchie

I've already had enough

The queues are long

Guess I am wrong

This chemical environment is getting out of hand

Virtue and wine cannot help you swim

Pain and sorrow must come

if you go

It's the chemistry and the things we shouldn't do

I am nothing without you

Ba-ba-da-ba-ba-ba-ba
