I had a friend who spoke of fate & he knew of another place in space in time he told of how me & my lady could look but we would never find said if you please I beg your pardon sometimes the things you see they just aint so you life can be an avant garden cause loves what makes your garden grow the sun leads the way the moon lights the sky

I see you & I lying in my Avant Garden
I dream of the day when our worlds collide we wont be denied here inside our Avant Garden

Sometimes my life aint what it seeming Right from the start its what your hearts believing could all this just be lucid dreaming but dreams aint just enough for me

the sun leads the way the moon lights the sky
I see you & I lying in my Avant Garden
we wont be denied here inside our Avant Garden

you know its just aint right to deal with other shite no one should ever be so broken hearted dont ever be afraid cause when you got it made yeah you dont even have to try so i'll be waiting in your garden watching all your flowers grow

I see you & I lying in my Avant Garden
you'll know we've arrived here inside our Avant Garden the sun brings the rain the moon needs the sky

i see you & I lying in my Avant Garden beware of the lies a word to the wise there's sweet cherry pies and truth inside our Avant Garden
