I've got a bone to pick with you
I've got a bone to pick with you
Why do you do these things that you do

I've got a bonnet with a bee inside
I've got a bonnet with a bee inside
Why do you run when you know that you can't hide

You have no money and you have no respect
In spite of everything your life is a wreck
And you have nothing but our heart to dissect
It's all about works with you
It's all about works with you
It's all about works with you

Something deep within you has been crying out for release
How can you continue to contain this haunting beast

Something deep within you has been crying out for
release
How can you continue to contain this haunting beast

Your poetry's setting this city aflame
It'll never go out it's a terrible shame
Oh you must believe me 'cause I ain't no liar
Your poetry's setting this city on fire
