Born under the water
I was always out at sea
I was always on the run
I prove it with the flippers on my feet

I havee frieends that look just like me
We walked well enough to work
But when kids revealed our secret
No longer have beds so why go home?

And I'm always on the run
Always on the run
Some days dream I'll evaporate
Wouldn't it be sad to lose me?

I was always told that I should never look back
Only way I'll be able to get a night's rest is Fake like it didn't happen if you believe I can
And I'll play like you are not asking me to share this with you

And I'm always on the run
Running from the sea
Some day dream I'll disintegrate
Wouldn't it be sad to lose me

I was always told that I should never look back
Only way I'll be able to get a night's rest is Fake like it didn't happen if you believe I can
And I'll play like you are not asking me to share this
with you

And the truth is much worse than this
It involves scolding it involves sugery
But that's what makes it work for me, for me

Yeah I'm always on the run
Running from the sea
Some days dream I'll return
Where I won't bother anyone but fish
