

Marcus J. William

"The Tides Will Turn"

Visit "The Tides Will Turn" on MotoLyrics.com

I'm Stripped Down To Bone Again
And the scene is cold
Drifted into...a place that i don't belong

These eyes in the mirror are unrecognizable

And if you could bring me back
Do it before i'm forever lost cause i don't know whether to hold my breath tonight
Or take the long road of letting you slip out of my life

I fall into the Deepest of the Deepest
I reach for you cause i never feel complete
When you're not here in my arms
Where you belong

I'm praying that the tides will turn
And bring you back home

I still feel you linger in my every part of me

Cause you turned me into a man i want to be

But how can i keep holding on if you don't believe

Cause they say that if you truly love someone
You have to set them free

But i don't know whether to my breath tonight
Or take the long road of letting you slip out my life

I fall into the deepest of the deepest
I reach for you cause i never feel complete
When you're not here in my arms
Where you belong

I'm Praying that the tides will turn
And bring you back home

Everyday....everynight....every break of dawn
Is sending me whisper... sending me sings

That we can correct the wrongs
I wished that you could see yourself in my eyes

Cause in you presence... i see an angel undisguised

I'm praying that the tides will turn
I'm praying that the tides will turn
I fall into the deepest of the deepest
I reach for you cause i never feel complete
When you're not here in my arms
Where you belong

I'm praying that the tides will turn
And bring you back home.....home...IÂ'm Calling You hooooome
Oooooooooo""

I fall into the Deepest of the Deepest
I reach for you cause i never feel complete
When you're not here in my arms
Where you belong
(hoo hoo)
I'm praying that (hoo) tides will turn(hoo)
And bring you back home

Visit Marcus J. William page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.