Through this open window feeds my lifes end
No chance now, given up, these wounds, they won't mend
Reality here too much to deal with Lost all that was worth feeling
So I took God into my hands I'm forwarding my end

So I took the easy way out
Can't see what all the fuss is about
(Repeat)

No-one else now in this world even matters
Every dream I had, has been shattered
There's hands held out to assist
But the fingers lay broken and limp
My dependancy becomes my only friend in forwarding my end
I took the easy way out
Can't see what all the fuss is about

Can't take it, never could
So I took the easy way out
(Repeat)
It's so easy to leave behind

Life's dealt me a battering this time
It's so easy to leave behind
Selfishness, betrayal, so kind
This dream has lost me in time
