I cherish the nights I spent with you,
Often times things don't work out like you think they ought to.
It seemed so certain but it left so fast,
Now our love is a thing of the past.

All I have are fond memories of you,
I don't think of the time you said we were through.
Movin' on with my life's about all I can do,
But baby, all I have are fond memories of you.

There's a reason the roads, they twist and they bend,
sometimes our demons wind up our friends.
I hope, in time, my sadness will pass,
I'll be left with warm memories of you from the past.

All I have are fond memories of you,
I don't think of the time you said we were through.
Movin' on with my life's about all I can do,
But baby, all I have are fond memories of you.

Movin' on won't be easy, but I'll do my best.
It's about time I let my poor heart rest.
You just never know, how it all ends,
Maybe our pathways will cross once again.

All I have are fond memories of you,
I don't think of the time you said we were through.
Movin' on with my life's about all I can do,
But baby, all I have are fond memories of you.

Baby, all I have are fond memories of you.
