The five rides were hiding on the shelf
They want you to believe that all the story is on hold
But listen hard I'll tell from the start
They're gonna make it better and your life will be all right,
WRONG!
As long as they keep lying
I will be around you know
I told you so you know that I'm gonna watch your back

I'm not lying; I'm not putting a show
For you to comprehend I'll go as far as I know
They came in then took it one by one
I couldn't make a move
They were so strange so I told
"Knock them all"
I would if I could but don't I know where they go
I'm sorry but I know that I'm gonna find them back

We're growing up
So please tell me what's going on
I'm holding now
I feel the man that I met at the war
We're growing up
So please tell me what's going on
You keep on lying
I tried to help but you only ignore

We're growing up
So please tell me what's going on
I'm holding now
I feel the man that I met at the war
We're growing up
So please tell me what's going on
You keep on lying
I tried to help but you only ignore

We're growing up
So please tell me what's going on
I'm holding now
I feel the man that I met at the war
We're growing up

So please tell me what's going on
You keep on lying
I tried to help but you only ignore

We're growing up
I'm holding now
We're growing up
You keep on lying, keep lying
