And I let my guard down
In a momentary lapse of emotion
It just slipped out
And we both know my heart could be broken
I said something that I never intended to say
You stopped laughing and you asked me,
"Do you feel alone in that way?"
Do you trip on love?
Do you run from magic?
When you kiss someone,
Do you make it tragic?
When you feel too much,
Do you start to panic?
When your word comes out
Do you trip on love?
I just stood there
Had expected another reaction
Out of thin air,
Felt the strangest sense of satisfaction
Can you tell me how you see me somewhere
And if you held me, would you let me see that part of yourself?

Do you trip on love?

Do you run from magic?

When you kiss someone,

Do you make it tragic?

When you feel too much,

Do you start to panic?

When your word comes out

Do you trip on love?

Where do we go, do we say,

This means less than we know it does...please tell me

Do you trip on love?

Do you run from magic?

When you kiss someone,

Do you make it tragic?

When you feel too much,

Do you start to panic?

When your word comes out

Do you trip on love?

Don't you wanna love me no more?

That is why I love you so much

This is why I hate you so much
