I am the mess that I am
Thoughts out of control
Temptation holding my hand

I am the blame that I am
The dream I want to follow but I can't

I am the noise that I am
The voices in my head and all the sounds that you lend
I am the sense that I am
The rights I disregarded for every wrong trend

Let it go now

And you come with your light
I strive to keep hiding

From a life in the sun
To me it's so blinding
That's how I am, just don't mind it

I am the man that I am
Old soul in a child I can't comprehend
I am so much that I am
As empty as a feeling I can no longer stand

Let it go now

And you come with your light
I strive to keep hiding
From a life in the sun
To me it's so blinding
That's how I am, just don't mind it
