Young hearts are feasting on sparks to trigger their own

True laws of attraction give up, to grow up alone
I tried to make a sense of all I see that is real I tried to push you back but your mind is set on me

Don't feed another spoon to my heart, I'm taken Don't seek to find a way to my soul, just barge right in
if you might Don't try to reach a mind with your thoughts, they're plenty
Come crashing in, if you can, as you go

Shoot blanks right at me, somehow they'll reach to the point Where lies the enemy, my greed, the one thing I own Take time to understand and realize that I've grown Once tamed, a life will carve your womb in shapes of me

Don't feed another spoon to my heart, I'm taken Don't seek to find a way to my soul, just barge right in
if you might
Don't try to reach a mind with your thoughts, they're
plenty
Come crashing in, if you can, as you go

Spoon to my heart

I think you might find again, a sense to your life and make it burn
I think you might find again, a sense to your life and make it turn
I think you might find again, a sense to your life and
make it burn
I think you might find again, a way to learn
A way to it all
