So why you waited so long?
To turn the page and open up your heart
So why are you waiting so long?
It's all about
Living the moment and enjoying it
Believin' in your heart is the key
Am I a liar?
It's all about love

So please, won't you stay a little longer?
The lightning striking on the same old place again all over
You know the children will keep on drawing on the walls
'Cause love let it goes

So where do tears come from?
Sometimes the pain, sometimes the fuckin' mind
I guess it is a war
It's all about
Respecting and not playing
Don't put your head against your feelings
Stop fuckin' playing
It's all about

And if I'm so wrong,
If there's really a right thing to do
Why do you keep on hiding and running away?
Instead of facing the truth?
And if it's a sin loving too much,
Or trying to immortalize ourselves
You can just consider me forgot

How can it be so deep without depending?
I can go so deep inside you without you depending on me
Promise me we'll keep inside only the beautiful moments

'Cause I swear for all the promises I broke
I swear I won't forget
