Tonight, we will break it all again
Taking back all of the words they shouldn't say,
All of the words they shouldn't say
We'll ride to find out what's missing in it
And I know that we will do just what it takes
To slave your shit together

I won't shoot your mama if you do it all right
So go steal all the money that you're whiling to find

Tonight, grab your things we're moving in
And I wouldn't recommend for you to stay
Unless you clear your mind right now
You're going down for all the things
That you put us through since then, yes I knew that.
