too many stars
take all for granted
let me tell you one thing now
they keep on dreaming

they feel alive
they're feeling so proud
how on earth can they survive?
let me know in time

let me know in time...
let me know in time...
let me know in time...

never look, never look behind dont u know theres nuthing to find never walk, never walk away tommorrow there'll be another day

too many stars
take all for granted
let me tell you one thing now
they keep on dreaming

they feel alive
they're feeling so proud
how on earth can they survive?
let me know in time

let me know in time...
let me know in time...
let me know in time...
