I need your loving
Like the sunshine
I need your loving
Like the sunshine

Welcome to the day in the life of I'm living up to, at least I'm paying the hype off I want this forever, I'm just saying it might not last
And so we playing 'til they turn all the lights off When expectations exceed the dream You don't wanna close your eyes, but you need to dream Realise that nothing's ever really what it seems to be
When I told you that I would, did you believe in me It's okay if you didn't, sometimes neither did I Just 'cause we're far apart, don't mean the feelings should die
Just 'cause I wanna grow, don't mean the ceilings are high
So I had to leave to have a chance to meet in the sky
I'm still chasing that high, it's a beautiful struggle Now you in the limelight and all the pressure has doubled
But, hey, this is what you wanted ever since you were little Used to be outside, now you the one in the middle

I need your loving
I'm right here, I'm right here
Like the sunshine
I just wanna make that clear
I need your loving
I'm right here, I'm right here
Like the sunshine
I just wanna make that clear

Welcome to a view through my eyes Come and walk with me and wear these shoes through my life
They all depend on me, I'll show you letters for proof
The way I look at it, there's always someone better than you

Been exposed to so much in so little time Who would've thought that he'd blow up with so little shine
If you were there from the start, know that you played a part Can't take you everywhere so I pray that you stay in my heart
And may we make it a mark, yo, we finally here Promised to put us on the map and now we finally there Been one hell of a year, we've had some ups and downs
I'm right here, so clear that they're looking around "Damn, he's come so far" - that's what they all gonna say
Some people turn their backs on us and now they all gonna pay
Think I found my feet, think I found my zone Still got a long way to go 'til I consider this home

I need your loving
I'm right here, I'm right here
Like the sunshine
I just wanna make that clear
I need your loving
I'm right here, I'm right here
Like the sunshine
I just wanna make that clear
