Psycho Realm, P.O.D., Boo-Yaa Tribe. What? What?

My soul is payable on death, the flow I'm layin here is deaf

Mics come with a teflon vest, my words wreck

I'm a Psycho, ill with the voco-loco

Heard a sick pedo noco noco by coasta logo

Gas mask with the gangsta strollo

Got a piece that will match the chrome D's on my low-low

Total chaos, you think that I'm a rapper your way off

I'm a killer that be murderin these tracks, so stay off

Serial rhyming, convicted of driving and beat the hymen and breaking the hymen on ears that never heard of the line that I'm in

The danger zone is common, city blocks got the demons mobbin

I'm a con-artist, starvin, strong armin

Jason's guitarin, Traa's bass while Wuv is bombin

Bring the streets to the booth, It's my therapy from mental scaring

From the hell when I dwelled in an L.A. projects

Ever since the day the streets be callin

Ooo what it takes to keep from fallin

All I know is how to hustle man, so I'll stay on it

Somewhere in the world the sun is shining down on my face there's someone trying trying to grind it out these streets we live

and I'm not dying

My souls payable on death, home grown out the west my words be leapin from the grill leaving you holding your breathe

So who want next, and who gonna test?

Come get this lyrics beating, I'm out the frame like graffiti

It's so misleading, but I make it look easy and everybody out the box trying to cop my steezy

So my crew roll through, you know quite is kept

But my level is next, so bet it all on dread

I break bread with hustlers, converse with kings Conquer kingdoms with warriors and preach to the fiends Partake communion with dealers, love the least of these Ask forgiveness from a priest and keep my ears to the streets
Some of my people still fightin they own demons And some of my people still shootin until it's even Some kill you just because, and I'll leave it at that
But I choose to use this mic to push these platinum plaques

Ever since the day the streets be callin
Ooo what it takes to keep from fallin
All I know is how to hustle man, so I'll stay on it Somewhere in the world the sun is shining
down on my face there's someone trying
trying to grind it out these streets we live
and I'm not dying

Ever since the day the streets be callin
Ooo what it takes to keep from fallin
All I know is how to hustle man, so I'll stay on it Somewhere in the world the sun is shining
down on my face there's someone trying
trying to grind it out these streets we live
and I'm not dying

When it drizzle come the storm and when you born, you see that rappers die where I come from
You thankin gangsta, thank the game West full circle and it finally came From the waters runnin how the west was won How them candles flamin for my brothers to find home Broken halos and clipped wings
Though we birthed of the west coast, we'll talk in them real things
Did ya'll know that gangstas don't cry?
Did ya'll know all thugs don't ride?
We gangsta pimpin but we had to You ever touch my sister, got you!
I'm keepin it gangsta cause keepin it's worth keepin
And paid for being processed
With sleeping worth leaking
The streets ball callin me out of control I'd rather be sending love before I let it go

Ever since the day the streets be callin
Ooo what it takes to keep from fallin

All I know is how to hustle man, so I'll stay on it Somewhere in the world the sun is shining
down on my face there's someone trying
trying to grind it out these streets we live
and I'm not dying

Ever since the day the streets be callin
Ooo what it takes to keep from fallin
All I know is how to hustle man, so I'll stay on it Somewhere in the world the sun is shining
down on my face there's someone trying
trying to grind it out these streets we live
and I'm not dying

I'll stay On The Grind, I do this all the time
For all it's worth, I keep on searching for my piece of mind
I'll stay On The Grind, I do this all the time
For all it's worth, I keep on searching for my piece of
mind
I'll stay On The Grind, I do this all the time
For all it's worth, I keep on searching for my piece of
mind
