And he's a shade in the shelter of the twilight
Alone he lives inside the stone old temple plants
He stores the phials with a truth finding elixir
On his kiblah to a flower of fifth essence
Then he learned to fly

And the world open wide
And I want to know
Where the wildflowers grow
These are the days
Learning to fly
You will live forever if you try

There's a sign in the sky
Under clouds' canopy
And I want to know
Where the wildflowers grow
In a garden so high
There are no more goodbyes
Find freedom again
Over wildflower skies
These are the days
Learning to fly
You can live forever if you try
