Visit "Fly" on MotoLyrics.com

We began this journey long ago.
It's been much harder than you know
We'd never change a single day
For all we learned along the way...

We took our first step all alone
Wandering so far from our home
Hoping we'd make it back some day

But the world we left behind
Has changed forever in our mind...

So fly away...

Today is gonna be the day
Never listen to a word they say
For they'll always try to knock you down

But you get back up and face it
Meet the future and embrace it...

And fly away...

I've dreamt of this day
For so very long
A soul's deep desire to belong...

You showed me the way
With your guiding hands
You taught me well, now I understand
Why I must spread my wings...

Today is gonna be the day... Fly...
