I camped out on your doorstep with hopes you'd see me walking by I feel you, I love you
Yeahhhh you got me and I got ya
Stand forever by your side
With chocolates and flowers
I'll take my time

If I saw you walking by, I have to say hello
I have to say what's on my mind, hmmm
And once I felt the things you do? hmmm
You don't need to do anything
You've got my heart and soul in two

Baby, I don't know what to do Scattered by this love for you and where I want to take you to Scattered with that one thing left to do Scattered is what I need to see to be the man I long to be
But the one thing that belongs is you
in my brain, so scattered

The morning, you tease me
Waking up and you're not there
Just cold sheets and coffee
Yeahhhh, you're working, I'm working Work all day to come back home to kiss you
And hold you, you're so d@mn fine

And if I saw you walking by, I have to say hello
I have to say what's on my mind, hmmm
And once I felt the things you do? hmmm
You don't need to do anything
You've got my heart and soul in two

Baby, I don't know what to do
Scattered by this love for you
and where I want to take you to
Scattered with that one thing left to do
Scattered is what I need to see
to be the man I long to be

in my brain, so scattered

And if I saw you walking by, I have to say hello
I have to say what's on my mind,
And once I felt the things you do?
You don't need to do anything
You've got my heart and soul in two
