Little darling come out of your cage
Don't care about what those people will say
Those people are filled up with rage and hate
Just use your nights to dream
And try to survive in the hours between
If you get through the day
I'm sure you'll be ok

Your father has lost all his dreams
There's no love in him he's just naïve
Like a silly old boy that has lost touch with reality

Yeah your problems will pass you someday
And they'll come back again but that's ok
You'll get up like the sun on a cloudy day

Yeah Bruce Springsteen will save you someday
Like he did with me once when I was your age
You'll get up like the sun on a cloudy day
