I don't really care what people say about this town right now
That if you're by yourself on the subway you'll get mugged, no doubt
Cause I don't think it will touch me
It's just a long time 'til you get here

And I guess I should be more excited checking where they shot the scenes
In Annie Hall and all those other movies
That I used to see
It's a long time 'til you get here
And I'll be alright when you get here

But until then I'll just be checking the mailbox
And try to get some comfort of any kind
And I guess that I'm just crazy but you're right
If it doesn't make a difference then I don't mind

And I've spent hours thinking bout those little panties that I love so much And things I could've done when I got high on things I've never touched before
But it's all in New York with me
I know it's still there to explore and see

And who cares about the central park
When you're not here to stroll with me
And who cares about the modern art
When I think of all the fun we'd make
Of all those pretentious people
With their so sophisticated egos

I want to show you my view of the skyline
And I just want to tell the world that I've found you
I want to stroll these streets in the night time
But I don't want to do it without you Without you on these avenues
