Here you are with your head in your hands Needing someone who understands Well you can tell me anything
I'll be your rock, like you've been mine
Every time life gets us down
I will lift you up
And make you laugh
Through the good and the bad
I believe that all we need is a friend till the end
Who can lend an ear when we need someone to help
face the fear
I will be there when you wanna share
All of your dreams and what you hoped to be when we're all grown up
Can't you see that you can count, you can count,
count on me
Remember? My first broken heart Thought my world was torn apart
You held me through every tear It's crazy how we sit and laugh Lookin' back, on what's his name
And I've got your back Like you've got mine
And I'll be there for life
I believe that all we need is a friend till the end
Who can lend an ear when we need someone to help
face the fear
All of your dreams and what you hoped to be when
we're all grown up
Can't you see that you can count, you can count,
count on me
There is nothing
We can't get through Friends forever, me and you
I believe that all we need is a friend till the end
Who can lend an ear when we need someone to help
face the fear
All of your dreams and what you hoped to be when
we're all grown up

Can't you see that you can count, you can count,
count on me
You can count, you can count, count on me
You can count, you can count, count on me.
