You've done it one more time
Followed through with the classic crime
I know that you got lucky tonight
Now I hope that you've learned from this Always seems like it's hit or miss
Next time it could be someone's life

I hope you're humbled now
What you say it means nothing
What you do is what you are
I know you know what's right
So break those strings and walk away
Make room for a better day

Don't you know that your worth more than
The bottle around your neck
Worth more than the feeling that you get
When you tip it back

It's over now and you're still alive

Another chance to do it right
Another choice to save a broken heart
Make a difference with the life you choose
You got one shot, don't abuse it
Your potential is up to you

Look at what's inside
You're stronger than you'll ever know
More important than you may feel
Reach for the sky
Understanding life is understanding Him
Understanding Him will change your life

Now I know, life is hard
You've got to fight to do what's right
You've got to fight through the night
Do you want to feel alive?
Stop living the world's lie
Start living in His light
