I feel alive like none before, don't break my fall
Sailing away blind of what's in store
The suns down time to roll the sound and let sanity
take its toll

Going somewhere that I know is dry and forbidden
Is nothing that can make me wrong Shaking fools and dodging rules make break your perception
If ignorance is where you fall

Days can melt away and feel the same
Just clear the stage...

I feel alive like none before, don't break my fall
Sailing away blind of what's in store
The suns down time to roll the sound and let sanity
take its toll

Easy sins may slither in and hide for a minute
Before they see the light at all
By the time the good in you can make you a winner
I'm guessing that your chance is gone

Days can melt away and feel the same
Just clear the stage...

I feel alive like none before, don't break my fall
Sailing away blind of what's in store
The suns down time to roll the sound and let sanity
take its toll
