"A Soft Hum"

Visit "A Soft Hum" on MotoLyrics.com

Everyday slips away
Life becomes a soft hum with no reason
Your mind grows numb
Stop making love, going through the motions
Tell me, how come

No one gets what they really want?
And love only when it's convenient?
We act like we know more than we know
And treat love like it's something you owe

Yesterday
I thought I heard you say
"Who d'you think you're kidding?
We're all pissing into the wind,
Wearing sheepskin, hiding from the same things that our dads did"

But maybe I'll find you
Maybe I'll find something I love
Baby, I've found you
Maybe I've found something I love
