How many days are you afraid
Of turning off?
You'd be amazed how easy
It's been to sleepwalk.
I'm in a state where i can't tell what's right from wrong
I'm making a face
That i've been holding for far too long.

I'm on the cross
I'm on the cross
Nothing to hide when all is lost.
I'm on the cross
I'm on the cross
A truth or a lie,
which could be worse, which could be...

How many days until
I can see that I'm just fine?
I try and I try but i just need a little time
I haven't slept in one month,
Things just don't seem okay (don't seem okay).
And every time the sun's up
It's a new yesterday (yesterday).

I'm on the cross
I'm on the cross
Nothing to hide when all is lost.
I'm on the cross
I'm on the cross
A truth or a lie,
which could be worse, which could be...

Drill the pressure right out of my head.
Maybe I'm scared.
Maybe I am (x2)

Weak and paranoid
When I speak white noise.
Pours out from my voice.
Every time I move my lips,
It tears your little ears to bits.

I'm frozen all the time, a deer in headlights
I'll get to the point,
You can't depend on love or truth
To get you through

Do you want me to explain?
Are you broken at the bone?
Do you try and rearrange
A better life, a bigger home?
So turn off the lights,
Or at least unplug the phone.
I'm a threat when I'm left alone.

How many days are you afraid of turning off?
Do you feel like letting go? (x4)

I'm on the cross
I'm on the cross
Nothing to hide when all is lost.
I'm on the cross
I'm on the cross
A truth or a lie,
which could be worse, which could be worse?

It's been a good life, I'll be sad to see it go.
