I'm lighting matches off of you and burning bridges all for you. Their fires made a perfect view of what seemed to be your mouth. I'm letting loose one more regret. The two of us never looked so bad.
I've watched the changes through your eyes,
like a movie for all my life.
I'm lighting matches off of you and building changes all
perfect view of what seemed to be your mouth.
I'm letting
loose one more regret. The
two of us never looked so bad.
I've watched the changes through your eyes like a move of my life.
God this makes me sick to say, but there's one more regret the two of us never felt so right.
