I'm so tired of waiting
For your sins to come along
If I said you're beautiful
I'd be wrong

Oh, there is nothing baby
When I look into your eyes
But your so far between your little white lie

Maybe next time
We can both find someone to hold down
someone to hold down

Wait 'til I start speaking
Tell you what you wanna hear
Let me whisper very softly, in your ear

In the future maybe
We can try to work it out
Then I'll laugh and let you cry by yourself

Maybe this time
someone to hold down

Maybe you can make me laugh
When you trip and fall down
I laugh when you fall down

Maybe you can make me laugh
When you trip and fall down
laugh when you fall down
I laugh when you fall down
