Sittin' on a city street with flowers in her hair
She didn't have a place to go but she didn't really care Life is cruel it's hard sometimes when you're hangin' by a string You're screaming with your mouth wide shut & no one's listening

Nobody left for you to hold on to (Chorus) When it's dark in your heart and the world

goes cold
Forget the path that led you down this road to this dead end
Start living again
When you're sinking fast, can't face the test Listen to the voice inside your chest, when you just don't know
Sometimes the only answer is to go, go, go
Find your way home (yeah)

Now her tears have dried and etched a story no one ever knows That unflinching sense of brokenness is as far as feeling goes When all roads lead to empty dreams and you don't know where to turn You look over your shoulder seeing all those bridges burned

Never knowing your next move

(Chorus) When it's dark in your heart and the world
goes cold
Forget the path that led you down this road to this dead
end
Start living again
When you're sinking fast, can't face the test Listen to the voice inside your chest, when you just don't know
Sometimes the only answer is to go, go, go
Find your way home (yeah)

Hold on darlin'
Morning is coming
It brings a light along You'll see you've had it wrong Leave the past and just move on

When it's dark in your heart and the world goes cold Forget the path that led you down this road to this dead

(Chorus) When it's dark in your heart and the world
Forget the path that led you down this road to this dead
Start living again
When you're sinking fast, can't face the test
Listen to the voice inside your chest, when you just don't know
Sometimes the only answer is to go, go, go
Find your way home (yeah)
