"Swan Song"

Watching the falling leaves and
Calling on your name, aaahh
This is the time to change
Our old song goodbye, right
And I could feel our falling
Far away

And emotions running high
And those days are left behind

And I know it's you
That makes everything so great
And I know it's true
That everything's just the same now, now

Watching the well and love is
Falling this time, aahh
This is the time to realize
I'm at fault, aahh
And I could feel our falling
Far away

And emotions running high
And those days are left behind

And I know it's you
That makes everything so great
And I know it's true
That everything's just the same now, now

And I know it's true, everything's going fine
Everything's great
And everything's just the same now, now
