The day of a thousand goodbyes
Roaming Winterfell
My wolf at my side
The way to Southern paradise,
I'll meet the Kingsguard,
A real horse I'll ride

Leaving behind the Snow and the Grey Wind
Bloodbonds rescind
One more time,
Climb the broken tower,
Counting the last hours

And then I looked into your eyes
And saw the green reflection
Of her majesty!
The things you'll do for love.

Every flight begins with a fall
Now is it just a dream?
Where did I lose control?

Every flight begins with a fall
Now is it just a dream?
Do I Fly or Die?
Come show me my pair of wings
And I'll kiss these earthly ways goodbye.

The ground closer now,
Still far away,
Far far away.
The crow said
Do not cry, just Fly!
I cant!
Leaving behind the bird and it's black skin,
Darker as sin.

One last look at the broken tower,
Is this my final hour?

When I looked into your eyes
I saw the three reflections
Of the gift in me
And found my way above

Every flight begins with a fall
Now is it just a dream?
Where did I lose control?

Every flight begins with a fall
Now is it just a dream?
Do I Fly or Die?
Come show me my pair of wings
And I'll kiss these earthly ways goodbye.

Then I looked into my eyes
And saw my own reflections
Suddenly it's clear to me
The things you'll do for love.

Every flight begins with a fall
Now is it just a dream?
Where did I lose control?

Every flight begins with a fall
Now is it just a dream?
Do I Fly or Die?
Come show me my pair of wings
And I'll kiss these earthly ways goodbye.
