Cold shivers pass through this open being All reason vanished for the gates in between bursting in circles to crown my eyes with holy, emitting radiance that tears the skies

Deatharchons, demonwings and ghoulish crows transcend my soul beyond all cosmic laws ignite Azazel's flame and let the Self reign (while I'm) held from dissolving spirals grant me the sight of Cain.

Raving fire scorch my eyes and cleanse the flesh as my call resounds unto unearthly shells neither the thickest veil shall hinder my direction nor life's abhor touch the pathways to damnation

Seraphim, angelcunts and wingless doves pillaged art thou and grasped by tainted claws the Word now echoes from vaults reversed The Law is One and emanates from Hells...depths Dissolving Spirals

Fire liberates the I, and embers reveal my transcendence and from this graceless height snakes cleave man's heart in deathtrance and their sight is charged beyond the vast Great Sea where the tree of life once stood in immense gleam for the branches and its pillars are abruptly cracking from foul winds of oppression!
Nought and salt shall mark the end of the Great Sea
The Dragon rears his head devouring sun's beams.
