Simply slide in my sheets and simply fall asleep should she shatter my heart and scatter these parts among the shaded streets in a shallow attempt to save her skin then I simply wasn't shooting for the stars and tell me again are you the reason I breathe or why I die trying and i reckon this weapon I yield this is her reason for revenge her chance to write the words I wrote her chance to take this from me trust I will find my way out i'll cut the throat to my better half and you could choose what you'd rather have could my concern kill a car crash in her body as she swallows each pill kill her with kindness count on clouds to slow her down

her chance to write the words I wrote

limp and lifeless my body without its frame scream my name three times if you love me it's the only way to save me crows can't fly with comets girl don't get caught in the current
