Watch her go and dance across the room
Only she knows what she's going through
In her eyes, there's a pain you can't deny
But she moves on, dance across the room, yeah

She loves when it starts to rain
Cause it's quiet outside, and that's when she feels safe
And she dreams that love will take her away, in her mind
In her mind is her favorite place

The little moments make it worth,
Everything you go through at your worst
It's beautiful how we all heal when it hurts
Don't ever stop, fighting for what sets your heart free

I love you, more than you'll ever know
From your beautiful eyes down to your nervous bones
And my heart stops when I see you glow
And it's all that I need, it's all I know

The little moments make it worth,
Everything you go through at your worst
It's beautiful how we all heal when it hurts
Don't ever stop, fighting for what sets your heart free

The little moments make it worth,
Everything you go through at your worst
It's beautiful how we all heal when it hurts
Don't ever stop, fighting for what sets your heart free
