You were my first love
Now you're in africa
Under the same stars
Gravity binds us above

I am mythology
Learning my lessons through time
Cursed with eternity
Counting to forty-nine

God could not erase
This never-ending chase

Fate put faith in you and me
Sans a silver lining
Every opportunity
Always lost on timing

All my love sits poised to be within you
Paused in a state of to be continued

I forget yesterday
But your scent's a time machine
Now you're in africa
Our chance remains to be seen
