Treat me tender
Like you used to do
Don't forsake me
This I ask of you

Not until you left me
Did I learn
I had reached
The point of no return

If I lost you
Time would cease to be
There can be
No other love for me

More than ever
For your arms, I yearn
I have reached
The point of no return

Once you opened Heaven's door
When we shared a burning kiss
Now your lips are mine no more
Don't let it end like this

Come to me
And tell me that you care
Darling, can't you hear
My lover's prayer

There's no turning back
You are my own concern
I have reached
The point of no return

I have reached
The point of no return
