You'll find out, just what you're looking for There's got to be a change in this life because your warmth is unsatisfying
You're choice is crucial, be aware of what you let into your life
These choice's are overwhelming, you've chosen
The very thing that you should be running from
Is this your alteration, and does it feel any different?
Step toward this bright salvation
Grasp it, hold it
I can see the water, slipping through your rugged repairs
It's not safe out there yet, push on
And hold together, what you have left Hold it together he's trying to break through You will see the fault in your fabric, you've sown in Pray for help, pray for a way out of here
This ones for Jesus
Now you can see that is not a wall
It's just a curtain, it's blinding you from the truth
Give it all you have left Suffocating, you got to break this off your life Because I hate to see you crumble with all these broken pieces
You'll find out, just what your looking for...
