"Faltered Has Become Self Aware"

Silence is what you should have had since the start

You should have realized defeat but you're already damned

Walk this path that you have strayed

I used to be just like you, cold and alone

I used to live like you, but now I have hope

This is what I have and what I am

I walk this path that you have strayed

You can't deny

Fall apart as I watch you try

Disobey and deny what can't be destroyed

Hope you have enjoyed your time and you die with every lie
