Just to consolidate yourself,
To guarantee comfort and personal wealth.
You reject other's needs because of your greed.
Your unquestioned ways must be questioned now,
When they're no more than products of a thousand-year lie.
I condemn your superior way and pathetic life.
Can't you see your actions hurt?

Well I guess you can't...

Too bad the structure will protect,
And provide these men with the assets of the common man.

The auction of human rights is here,
All designed by the government.
I wish I could live to see the day
When the state of justice can't be bought.

The only way, your only way.
Which way is that supposed to lead? who will guide
you?
You turn your back on those who fall.
The righteous citizens themselves,
With law and order on their side.
