

Adhitia Sofyan

"Deadly Storm Lightning Thunder"

Visit "Deadly Storm Lightning Thunder" on MotoLyrics.com

Would you call me if you can
I'm waiting underneath it all
All the mess and the chaos you've caused
Now you're nowhere to be found

So tell me I'm trying to define
The meaning of unconditional love
When it puts you faced down on the ground
You're out there sailing away

And maybe a deadly storm will come and catch you
Lightning thunder will strike you
It hits your head so hard you'll come to me

It's all right I totally understand
They're greener on the other side
And the sun will shine brighter everyday

I guess that's where all the light goes

And I'm ok, I hope the best for you
Remember to go out and have fun
You could spend the day out in the ocean
I heard the water's fine over there

I guess I 'll learn to come by without you
And somewhere out there I'm sure God is watching you close

But then maybe his deadly storm will come and catch you
Lightning thunder will strike you
It hits your head so hard you'll come to me

Visit Adhitia Sofyan page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.