No more living a lie, identify, can't you?
Feel it now, we're loving one another
No more living a lie, identify, can't you?
Feel it now, we're loving one another

Yesterday, it was only tears and pain
I then cried to Jah, Jah 'cause all the people do is to fight in vain
I could not believe how we could be so selfish
I find it hard to believe how we could be so foolish

I mean Jah, Jah give us a new name
Jah, Jah give us a new name and now I'm glad to say
The birds of a feather flock together come what may
And no more living a lie, identify, can't you?

Feel it now, we're loving one another
No more living a lie, identify, can't you?
Feel it now, we're loving one another
No man should treat his own brother so

That his own flesh and blood become that mans enemy
O, man, don't you know
Bloods thicker than water and if you don't know by now
These things you really ought to

I mean, Jah, Jah give us a new name
Jah, Jah give us a new name and now I'm glad to say
The birds of, yes, the birds of a feather flock together come what may
And no more living a lie
