"The Calling"

Visit "The Calling" on MotoLyrics.com

When the heart is weary and my steps falter
When the light is fading as the road ends...
I will lift mine eyes towards my homeland
To hear your call...

When the winds of change have left my body older
When the journey seems to last a thousand years...
I will see your face - your gentle voice

Guides me on...

Love as pure as prayer upon thy lips
From above the night I hear your call...

When the heart is weary and my steps falter
When the light is fading as the road ends...
I will lift mine eyes towards my homeland
To hear your call...

I hear your call...
