We'll Find a way, find a way, find a way (despite those who doubted us)

Just stoned and hopeless is what they told us, our future is golden and you fucking bore us, Been down, been down, been down taken all we can take, ambition's the bone that aint never gunna break, "your all image", is that all you got?

They dont know , they dont know what they're up against, Oh they so dont know what they're up against.

We'll find a way, find a way, find a way (despite those who doubted us)

You keep telling me and I'll never listen, just like the skin it burns before it glistens, our choices today mark a pre-paid future, shes your excuse so go ahead and use her, so break us down but when push comes to shove, we'll show you what sweat and our dreams are made of.

they dont know, they dont know what they're up against, oh they so dont know what they're up against dont flatter yourself, this song isnt about you, but to be dead honest, i couldnt write this without you....

All you are is hands and throat, But what your not is heart and soul
