Cells are lined up in rows, Containing living life
And their keepers have no souls, at all Submitted unwillingly, With no sight of,
Freedom, please let, them go
Wanna stay inside my own head, till you break in
We, have no, right to,
Wanna stay inside my own head, till you break in Keep, them for, our, own
Use, we cannot rule, everything we see
Some people try to justify, That we're the higher life,
And yet we're the ones who destroy all Wearing them in fashion shows, Hunt to feel like a man,
You people make me sick
Wanna stay inside my own head, till you break in
We, have no, right to,
These walls cave in, still I'm chasing
Stop, all the torture and killing
Use them for our entertainment and then
When they resist, we kill them,
Held in by crude straps, Eyes doused with perfume
And toxic pointless tests, And experiments, Don't breed anymore, Left at doorsteps, starved and beaten
We cannot rule, everything we see
Fight, for the, ones who cannot speak
