Can you hear us coming oh. Can you hear us coming oh.

If you're there and you can hear this. Know that it is not the end. We haven't got all the answers. But Love is on the move and if you're ready to see it. We gave up our cynicism - opened our eyes. To be the first one's to take the risk and step out tonight. Cause everyone from everywhere around. Wants to come and make it right.

I saw the day break through the night. As the angels sang and danced to the light. And the sound that overcomes. This rush of joy that fills this new heart.

There's whispers and the earth it is shaking. Can you feel it? can you hear it? can you see it? Love is on the move and the sound it is coming. And we're moving - yeah we're moving. Today the world is all brand new. It's a place where great things can happen. Where we hope for the best. And no one is left behind and it's beautiful. For one second we come together. And for one second we come together. So come back and start again. There's no need to wait. We're on the edge. We're the next ones. Open up our hearts again, again.

To brothers and sisters, to lovers and enemies. Sinners and saints - send it out now. Everyone to everyone. Can you hear the sound. Oh - send it out now.

Can you hear us coming oh.
Can you hear us coming oh.
