The power feels good. To get what we want. And to take our revenge. Cause it's all that we want. But all we really take. Is the soul of us away. But what do we become. When we lose all that we ever were so.

Don't let it get away. Don't let it slip away. Cause we're losing ourselves. There is nothing to gain. And all we cause is pain. Don't let it get away. Don't let it slip away. It's not too late- When we forgive. Love will find a way.

And still we push and we shove. And we hurt the ones we love. We can fight to destroy or we can fight to forgive. We could save this day Oh I know Love can find a way. Because the pain is not ending - and we don't even know who we are anymore.

Revenge can take us over. And turn us into our enemies. This is a crisis - It'll destroy you. But it's not too late.

Don't let it get away. Don't let it slip away. Cause we're losing ourselves. There is nothing to gain. And all we cause is pain. Don't let it get away. Don't let it slip away. It's not too late - When we forgive. Love will find a way.

So do we face the darkness? Will we choose to let Love be our guide? And be the that change we want. The change we need to see. In our streets and in our homes and in our hearts. Do we face the darkness? Will we be the difference? Will we be the difference?

Don't let it get away. Don't let it slip away. It's not too late. When we forgive.
