Are we alone? We are alone? Are we alone? Could someone please tell me. Cause nothings getting me. Nothings reaching me. Where did we go wrong? I remember a day when love won. But it hasn't in so long. This house is so empty tonight. Where did love go? I'm having a hard time with all of this. I don't agree. That this is where I'm supposed to be. I don't agree.

The rain is falling now. Along with everything else. When did this I become. And what happened to love. I don't even know where I am. Where am I today? I'm falling into nothing. and the pain is beginning to flow.

I've lost all sense of time and direction. Has the time already past? Is it already too late? What is good? I don't know what to think anymore. But I don't want to be alone. God if you're there. Could you let me know? Nothing is making sense. I'm lost here without you now. I can't figure this out. So far away. I feel so far. Nothing is making sense. I'm lost here without you now.

This is the sound. Can you feel it? Taking over. It's taking over. This is the sound. Can you feel it? Taking over. It's taking over.

Until I get another sign - I'll hold on. I need you more than ever than I ever knew I would. Until I get another sign - I'll hold on.

I need you more than ever than I ever knew that I would. That I would.

Oh how sweet the sound. Oh how sweet the sound. I'm lost without you Lord. Love is here.
