Black is my heart
And white are the lies
The thoughts regained, are nobodies prize

Black are my lungs
Deflated inside
Gasping for air, in you they confide

Left are my thoughts
Always the same
The loss of one, is nobodies blame

Right is the way
I could be wrong
Write it all down, sing it'n a song

White are my eyes
Too blind to see
What's come and gone, and things should not be

Tuned are my ears
Thoughts conveyed
Open the hatch, prepare to invade

Lonely, lonely, lonely
I feel as lifeless as they come
Lovely, lovely, lovely
You were always number one

Lonely, lonely, lonely
I feel as lifeless as they come
Lovely, lovely, lovely
You were always number one

Black is my heart
And white are the lies
The thoughts regained, are nobodies prize

Black are my lungs
Deflated inside
Gasping for air, in you they confide

Left are my thoughts
Always the same
The loss of one, is nobodies blame

Right is the way
I could be wrong
Write it all down, sing it in a song

Lonely, lonely, lonely
I feel as lifeless as they come
Lovely, lovely, lovely
You were always number one

Lonely, lonely, lonely
I feel as lifeless as they come
Lovely, lovely, lovely
You were always number one, one

Lonely, lonely, lonely
I feel as lifeless as they come
Lovely, lovely, lovely

Lonely, lonely, lonely
I feel as lifeless as they come
Lovely, lovely, lovely
