You need to help me understand
Exactly what I'm going through
I was just another lonely man
But I didn't know 'till I met you

And then you, you turned my world around
I know it's corny but it's true
You turned me upside down
When you came I changed

I think about you every day
It's like you're always on my mind
There's so much more I'd like to say
But the words just seem so hard to find

Because you, you turned my world around
I know it's corny but it's true
You turned me upside down
You called my name
When you came I changed

There's so much here that's new to me
It's like a whole new thing has been unfurled
You changed the way I used to be
I think you, you put me on another world

Because you, you turned my world around
I know it's corny but it's true
You turned me upside down
Nothings the same
You called my name
And when you came I changed
